

Charles R. Goeldner Article of Excellence Award

This award is named for the long-time editor of the Journal of Travel Research – Charles R. Goeldner.

Awarded to recognize the most significant work in the Journal of Travel Research during previous year.

Requirements: No entry is necessary.

Criteria: The Charles R. Goeldner Article of Excellence Award is presented to the author(s) of the article which is judged to be the best appearing in the Journal during the previous year. The award recipient(s) is determined by the JTR editor and his/her committee.

Award: Award recipient(s) will receive a plaque, a $500 travel allowance, and a complimentary registration to the TTRA Annual International Conference.

2019

YOUR NAME NERE

2012

Geoffrey I. Crouch

“Destination Competitiveness: An Analysis of Determinant Attributes”

2013

Albert George Assaf & Alexander Josiassen

“Identifying and Ranking the Determinants of Tourism Performance: A Global Investigation”

2014

Vernon Bidet, Cody Morris Paris, & Timothy Tyrrell

“A Quantifies Triple Bottom Line for Tourism: Experimental Results”

2015

Christina Cavaliere, Scott Cohen, & James Higham

“Climate Change, Discretionary Air Travel and the “Flyers’ Dilemma””

2016

Tim Coltman, Sara Dolnicar, & Rajeev Sharma

“Do Satisfied Tourists Really Intend to Come Back? Three Concerns with Empirical Studies of the Link between Satisfaction and Behavioral Information”

2017

Ding Du, Alan A. Lew, & Pin T. Ng

“Tourism and Economic Growth”

2018

Fred Bronner & Robert de Hoog

“Tourist Demand Reactions: Symmetric or Asymmetric across the Business Cycle?”