

Hanyoung Go, Ph.D., is an adjunct professor of Hospitality, Restaurant and Tourism Management program at University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Her research focuses on the impact of technology on tourist experiences. Her work in tourism has addressed tourist perception and spatial experiences through AI robots with machine learning, 3D virtual environments and social media.