

Jalayer (Jolly) Khalilzadeh, Ph.D earned his Associate's Degree in Travel and Tourism Services, Bachelor's Degree in Hotel Management, Master's Degree in Tourism Marketing and Management, and Ph.D. in Hospitality Management. Dr. Khalilzadeh has a passion for applications of network and [complex] system sciences in tourism and hospitality research. His works have been published in top-ranked journals such as Annals of Tourism Research, Tourism Management, Current Issues in Tourism, Computers in Human Behavior, International Journal of Contemporary Hospitality Management, and Journal of Destination Marketing and Management. He is the methodology editor of The Service Industries Journal and a board member of Anatolia-An International Journal of Tourism and Hospitality Research. Dr. Khalilzadeh has various work experiences in the hospitality and tourism industry and is involved in projects related to the applications of network science in destination management and tourism consumption. Currently, he serves as an Assistant Professor of Tourism at East Carolina University (ECU).

<https://scholar.google.com/citations?user=2WRErNcAAAAJ&hl=en&oi=ao>

<https://publons.com/a/1402448/>

<https://orcid.org/0000-0001-5497-3228>

https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Jalayer\_Khalilzadeh

