

Pernille Eskerod, Ph.D., is Senior Researcher and Full Professor of Management and Organizational Behavior at Webster Vienna Private University, Austria. She lives and works in Vienna, Austria. Originally she is from Denmark. She conducts qualitative research, and her research interests include stakeholder engagement, project management, project stakeholder management, and change management. She is an internationally renowned researcher and speaker, and she has published 100+ publications, incl. books, journal articles, and conference papers.