

Tanner Caterina-Knorr is a Ph.D. Student at Arizona State University, concentrating in community resources and development, with a sustainable tourism track. He is a research assistant at the Center for Sustainable Tourism at ASU and his interests include tourism policy, social equity through tourism, and sustainable tourism development.