

Dr. Ashley Schroeder is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Management at The Pennsylvania State University. She is also the Managing Director of the Tourism Crisis Management Institute. Her research agenda focuses on tourism crisis management and destination resilience.